First In Maryland – Inventor's Portal set to turn dreams into $$$$ for everyone who ever said, "I have an idea"!

Havre de Grace, MD. – Where do the ideas come from that become the most desirable, useful, and world changing products, services, or software? Actually, they come from you, your neighbor, a problem solver, a bored student, just about anyone.

On March 1, in Baltimore County, and March 7, in Harford County, NMTC is launching the Inventor's Portal—a free series that is “specifically” for everyone. The NMTC created the Inventor's Portal to encourage personal growth and economic opportunity and prosperity for anyone who ever said, “I have an idea!”

In the Inventor Portal series, subject matter experts will outline the process of invention, and give you fast-track steps and tips for converting your idea from concept to cash.

Session 1. Have an Idea? What's next? Learn the process of how to convert an idea into cash.

Session 2. Is your idea good enough? What to know for determining your concept is worth pursuing Session 3. To patent or not to patent? Attorneys debate advantages and disadvantages of each path.

Session 4. How do you fund your dream? See how much do you need/ Sources of capital/ How to find $

Session 5. Write the killer business plan. Understand winning plans and how to make them sparkle.

If you have an idea, solved an annoying problem, or developed a process improvement, then this series is for you! The Inventor's Portal will inspire, encourage and motivate you, the inventor. The NMTC's Inventor's Portal is supported in part by the Baltimore and Harford Counties public libraries, and in Harford County by Harford's Business Edge; a non-profit enterprise that exists for the purpose of creating and maintaining successful business incubation and acceleration programs and services for area entrepreneurs by obtaining, coordinating and directing government and private sector resources.
